In The Limelight

For the past few days Jacksonville has been in the limelight on account of the storm. Reports first reaching the outside world were to the effect that half the town was destroyed. It is understood the radio had something to do with that. However, reliable news was not long in reaching the public in view of the fact that metropolitan newspapers and press agencies cut their men into the city and secured accurate information.

The Journal and Courier news staffs have been working on storm news constantly, and every effort has been made to publish the numerous details. The work of fact gathering has of course been hampered by lack of telephone service, but reporters went into the storm area and checked the damage as well as they could. Citizens have been kind in turning in storm news, for which the press desires to extend its thanks.

On Wednesday camera men were busy in all parts of the city. Newsreel men were on the job here. Airplanes flew over the city carrying photographers. Movie men took about thirty feet of film showing a woman trimming a tree. Men clearing wreckage, storm freaks and other features of the storm's havoc were filmed.

Thus Jacksonville has been in the limelight, not by any choice of her citizens, but by the activity of nature. Now it is up to the people of Jacksonville to repair the damage and make such a record of achievement that they will gain the headlines in their own right. Already the courage and indomitable spirit of our citizens has been noted and praised. This courage and spirit will continue until all traces of the storm are removed and the city is making progress toward a better and brighter day.

Plenty of Work

One contracting firm in this city has eleven jobs under roof Wednesday. The contractor stated that he could get all the work he wanted. This means that men in the building trades here can find employment. Cleaning up after the storm has given work to scores of those who have been unemployed.

The storm has done something for Jacksonville that has been under consideration for months. It has started a program of home repairing. It was unfortunate that the storm had to come and it has caused great loss, but it would be foolish to overlook the fact that it has brought employment. Jacksonville has long been in need of a building program. Now is a good time to make all necessary repairs on the home or the business house, to put in new store fronts, to replace old roofs, and to do a thousand and one other jobs that need doing. There are nearly 500 members of the building trades in this city, and if work can be provided for them it will mean more money in circulation.

Tree Surgery

Again Jacksonville trees need repairing. Those that have survived the storm may require surgery to keep them alive and growing and to help their appearance. Some observers have noted that varieties of trees that best survived the storm. That information should be used when new trees are planted. Jacksonville has had enough experience with high winds to know that it is best to plant shade trees that can withstand them.

A plan has been suggested to provide the necessary repair of trees without cost to the property owner. It is believed that a fund of about $300 can be raised among the citizens. It can be used to employ an expert tree surgeon.

A corps of men to assist the surgeon could and would be supplied by the Emergency Relief committee. Thus with a small outlay of money contributed in small amounts which should burden no one, Jacksonville's trees could be repaired and saved. In view of the fact that the trees took the brunt of the storm and saved many residences from destruction, it is entirely worth while to save and cultivate them. It is hoped this project can be carried thru as planned.

Thanks, Governor

Officials of the state of Illinois were quick to come to the aid of Jacksonville following the storm. There was instant and hearty co-operation on the part of several state departments. Governor Henry Horner visited the city and set in motion the machinery to repair damage at the state institutions.

But while the Governor did not fail to show genuine interest in the welfare of the city, he also, meeting local leaders, he offered to do anything possible for Jacksonville. He offered to put at the disposal of the city trucks and men to assist in clearing up the wreckage.

Jacksoville people want to thank Governor Horner and the other state officials for their interest and co-operation. Thanks is also extended to the American Legion, Department of Illinois, and other organizations for their offers of assistance.

It brings a feeling of comfort to know that we can have assistance of neighbors and friends if we need it. Jacksonville citizens will do their best to extricate themselves from any difficulty, but they are also grateful for the interest of those outside, and if it becomes necessary their offers will be accepted without hesitation.

Our Greatest Imitation
Really the Japanese people can't be so alien and anti-American as we've been led to believe. An American journalist who goes to Tokyo without prejudice, just to see what they're like, reports some eye-opening facts. Instead of a multitude of fierce little automata, patriotically hating everything American, he makes the following discoveries:

An American movie shown in Tokyo recently, the first typical American "girl show" ever presented there, had the biggest success in the history of Japan. On the last night the audience and actors were all weeping together at the sadness of parting.

Baseball is now the Japanese national game, almost as completely as it is ours. The Japanese are the only foreign nation that has naturalized this sport. It is all amateur, but boys and girls are playing it everywhere in American uniform.

Next to American baseball, the Japanese go in most heartily for American apple pie and ice cream soda. Everywhere you buy these delicacies under their American names. Sundae, banana splits, maple nut fudge and so on—they are all there.

The people ride in American cars, drink American cocktails, attend American movies, dress in American style, are crazy about almost everything American.

Apparent to the militarists of the Japanese government is a wrong impression. The Japanese people, unless all ordinary signs fail, admire and like America.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

To the Editor of The Journal-Courier:

Claremore, Okla., July 12.—I never get through the thrill of coming back home, seeing kin folks and old friends. Nature has been rough with the ranchmen and farmers here. The drought withered the corn just as it was starting to "roast in ear."

I asked about the wheat and oats and some other Republican scourge had fallen on them, no grass for the cattle, but they did have an awful nice radish crop.

Never saw ruder radishes. All I know is just what I read in the Claremore Progress. See where Speaker Rainey of the house of representatives has been kinder beating the political bushes around here, wish I had gone home, he is awfully lovely old gentleman. It's awful hot to be campaigning. I would let the Republicans do all the talking, you lose more votes this weather than you gain.

The New Deal in Washington

Unique Program of State Socialism Is Drafted for Puerto Rico... He's Writing a Speech Is Newest Abbi... New Agencies Create More Confusion in Capital.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington, July 12.—Roosevelt left the Puerto Ricans without telling them what he had up his sleeve for them.

It is a program of state socialism unique under the American flag and for a while it probably will cost American exporters at least $15,000,000 a year in decreased business. But the alternative, sponsors say, is virtually certain social chaos for the island.

The plan is submitted in the report of the Puerto Rican policy committee headed by Chancellor Chardon of the University of Puerto Rico and calls for land restoration to islanders, industrial development, and an emigration program.

Roosevelt has studied the report and privately admitted it, though the document hasn't been made public.

The Chardon report even calls for a "scientific" scheme of birth control, though it admitted this wouldn't be socially effective until standards of living and the Puerto Rican sense of responsibility are improved.

New industries would be regulated on a limited profit basis. Like public utilities, as part of a plan for local tariffs to protect the local markets.

High income taxes would be established, with abatements when the taxpayer's money was invested in government-supervised industries.

But the chief phase of the plan calls for public purchase and operation of sugar mills and cane land, citrus fruit and coffee land—the land to be distributed among tens of thousands of homesteaders.

There will be publicly-owned warehouses, machine shops, community and school houses, homes and dairies to sell milk to growers and laborers at cost.

It frankly admitted that profit-sharing provisions for growers and laborers will force a redistribution of income and a sharp cut in profits now drained from the island by American sugar corporations.

And if the land and mills can't be bought at reasonable prices, Puerto Rico will take it under the right of eminent domain.

The Favorite Alibi
Favorite current excuse of New Dealers when you can't get in to see them, as given by their secretaries:

"I'm writing a speech today and would rather not be disturbed until he gets it done."

Confusion Grows Worse
A general air of confusion has persisted here since the administration's very beginning and it's a lot worse since their agencies created through recent acts of Congress began their frantic searches for office space.

Many of the bright boys brought in here for important jobs never did take time out to learn their way around town.

Failure to learn about Congress and its workings has led to many mistakes and some bitterness. It's a rare New Dealer, for instance, who knows the difference between a resolution and a concurrent resolution.

Wolfs from out of town are sometimes held up two or three days because the first official they contact doesn't know or won't admit that the matter at issue is under another jurisdiction.

Officials have been switched around so rapidly this last year that no one could keep track. (Many appointments have been made and kept—at the wrong place.) But that's no excuse for misdirection of innumerable intra-governmental letters to offices whose functions don't cover the subject matter.

Now a bad housing shortage has developed and at least four of the new agencies—the Securities Exchange Board, National Labor Relations Board, Federal Housing Administration, and Communications Commission—have been delayed by that obstacle in getting started.

Temporary solution is being attained by acquisition of space in private-owned office buildings, of which there's scarcely one in town that doesn't house one or more federal sections.

A Typical Street Scene

Scenes such as the one shown above were duplicated throughout the entire city after a violent twister had snapped off giant trees like twigs, blown electric light and telephone poles askew, tangled the wires, and scattered debris everywhere. The loss of the many trees of Jacksonville was probably the most costly damage of the wind-storm Tuesday night.

Second Hard Wind Damages Moy Home

Listening to trees crashing upon their house two nights in succession was the thrilling and unpleasant experience of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Moy residing three miles east of the city on the old state road. During the tornado Tuesday night the Moy home escaped with only minor damage. Last night, during another small windstorm and hard rain, part of the roof was smashed by a large elm limb.

Edward Moy reported this morning that the limb that struck the house was more than a foot in diameter and about 70 feet in length. It ripped off a number of shingles and crushed rafters.

The force of the limb's fall was stopped before it progressed into any rooms of the residence. The family heard the crash but were not in danger.

The area east of the city received a hard rain and wind last night but not nearly so severe as the night before.

New Way Leaves No M.S. (Medicine) Smell

There's an old superstition that the stronger the smell, the better the soap. . . . But think a minute! Is it the smell or the lather that gets you clean? You know the answer! Ordinary toilet soaps don't lather freely enough in this hard water. They form a sticky soap scum that works into the pores and dams up stale perspiration. Strong-smelling soaps—no matter how much they lather—can't keep a secret.

Kirk's Castile, being a 100% pure vegetable oil soap, lathers abundantly, even in hard, cold water. It goes deep into the pores, mixes with the stale perspiration curds and sets them free. In a twinkling your body is as fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze!

Where the Storm Hit

The home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Andre, 1006 W. State street was damaged by a great elm, falling on the east side of the house. From its position and appearance the massive trunk of the tree was twisted and then hurled onto the roof, over which the branches extend nearly to the west side.

Mrs. Andre stated this morning that the impact was so terrific that the porch was torn from the house, causing openings, where rain entered the rooms. Several windows on the east were shattered.

Such destruction coming in the midst of an electrical storm alternating with complete darkness, intensified the severe strain upon the family.

The Capps' factory was the scene of one of the storm freaks. The wind snapped the big flange off at the base and then whirled it around, driving it top foremost through the roof. The factory also received other damage to the exterior of the buildings.

Suction, caused by greater air pressure outside than in, broke the glass behind the show windows in Myers Bros. store during the big storm. It was this same condition that caused the destruction of the Montgomery Ward windows.

It was reported that the supply of hatchets, axes and saws gave out on Wednesday morning and that salesmen had to make frantic efforts to drive through, by round-about routes to neighboring towns to procure new supplies. The local stores will receive these needed articles by truck today.

J. H. Dool, manager of the Illinois Telephone Company, said this morning that nearly 100 men are working to repair the huge damage to the lines. Jacksonville repairmen were joined by crews from Bloomington and Quincy, rushed here to care for the emergency. Another part of phone men was expected from Pittsfield this afternoon.

More than 600 pairs of cables extended out from the telephone plant to all parts of the city. Only a few of these are in working order. In some instances the cables were buried under the wreckage of houses. The cables must be put into working order before any of the drop lines from streets are taken into buildings.

Drifting hail from the storm Tuesday night formed a mass of solid ice about a cubic foot in volume at the George LaRue home on South Diamond street. All of the ice mass did not melt until Wednesday afternoon.

Serious damage was done by the storm to the residence of B. F. Lane, 725 West Douglas avenue. A large tree at the rear of the house was split in two and one trunk was laid with the butt almost in the back door. Another tree in the front yard crashed, taking a corner of the porch. The wind shattered a large glass in a front window and rain and hail swept into the house, inflicting heavy damage to furniture and walls. The wall of the second story was cracked for several feet.

At the home of Harry T. Strawn, on Mound Road, the storm did considerable damage to fruit trees and gladiolus beds. Several holes were torn in the roof of the house, and a window was broken in the garage. Two cherry trees, a pear tree and five peach trees were destroyed. The wind leveled many fine gladiolus, and the rain washed the bulbs from the ground.

Despite the fact that transportation in Jacksonville Wednesday was considerably choked up due to the tornado, there were several who came to the city from surrounding territory on business or to view the results of the storm. John Brown, of Alexander, was in Jacksonville. Mr. Van Seymour, of Nortonville, was a visitor in the city. Mr. and Mrs. William Gerhardt, of Springfield, and Mr. and Mrs. George Rand, of Medora, were also among the out of town callers on Wednesday. From Chapin came Frank H. Calloway. Mrs. August Duer and George Oberlate.

Although fallen limbs and other material strewn about by the storm made driving extremely difficult and in some districts impossible in the city itself, the highways just outside of the city limits were all right. Jacksonville streets are rapidly being cleared so that traffic may soon move as usual.

Sheriff Fletcher Blackburn received word Thursday that a horse was killed on his farm south of Franklin. He did not learn the cause of the accident, but supposed that the horse was struck by lightning.

Communities east and south reported a high wind during the night and considerable rain. At Woodson several large trees were damaged. The gale night's tornado, but took a more eastward course.

The ventilators on the David Prince school were damaged by the storm and will have to be repaired. As far as is known, this is the only damage to the public school buildings. President Kendall of the Board of Education said today, S. M. Foley, chairman of the building committee, and George Belzer, the utility man, have been making a close inspection of the school properties. The rain left a foot of water on top of the high school, but did no damage to the roof.

At the home of Frank M. Crabtree, 475 South East street, the wind turned the garage bottom side up and then wrecked it, depositing half the building on the premises of a neighbor. The shingles were blown from the roof on the front part of the house.

they were blown out directly by the wind, or they were shattered by tree limbs, bricks, or other debris scattered about by the tornado.

A piece of tin roofing 15 by 20 feet in dimensions was torn from the Pacific hotel during the storm. There was considerable water damage to the interior, some of the moisture reaching to the second floor. The roof has been repaired; but the tin the wind removed has not been found.

At the home of Charles Baker, 825 South East street, the storm blew two chimneys and deposited a large limb on the front porch.

At the home of Leon Stewart, west of the city, the front window was blown in Tuesday night, and rain and hail damaged the interior of the house.

Democrat Leaders of District Meet

A meeting of chairmen of the Democratic county central committees of the Twentieth congressional district was held Wednesday at the Pacific hotel. The session was called by Joseph Knight, state central committeeman, and was attended by several notable party leaders, among them Congressman Henry T. Rainey, John Stelle of Springfield, and Hon. Michael L. Tgoe of Chicago.

The meeting was of considerable importance, though no public statement has been made concerning it by Democratic leaders. Plans for the coming congressional campaign and other matters were discussed.

Among the Sinclair visitors in Jacksonville yesterday was Everett Matson.

The Concord community was represented in Jacksonville yesterday by Floyd Goodpasture.

Catch Jerseyville Girls Shop-Lifting

Jerseyville, July 12.—Charges of larceny were filed Tuesday afternoon against two young girls of Jerseyville after they had been apprehended in a shop lifting session which took in the National Fessmeyer & Senior and Warrens Dry Goods store.

The two, Kathleen Bligh, 15 years of age, and Virginia Holmes, 17 years, gave statements of the affair and told officials that they had made no plans preliminary to the occasion, but had started taking the articles obtained after they entered the stores.

The two were apprehended by George Senior, They entered the Fessmeyer & Senior establishment and asked to look at some dresses. When they left the store, Senior noticed that two bottles of perfume were missing from the show case in the front of the store. He called the girls back and they paid him for the two bottles. When he returned to the front of the store, he missed some stockings.

Accompanied by Miss Katie Kleffner of the National Senior drove to the home of Virginia Holmes. When they arrived there they were greeted by the girls who had arrayed themselves in silk pajamas which they later admitted having taken from the National. They turned over all the articles they had taken from the three stores to Senior.

Chief of Police Slover was notified of what had taken place and arrested the two girls. They were arraigned before Justice Thatcher where each gave a detailed statement in writing relative to their part in the taking of the goods. The list of articles taken included two pairs of hose, and four scarfs from Fessmeyer & Senior; two handkerchiefs, one white dress, two blouses, two pair of pajamas, a green skirt, a blue skirt, two dresses and two ties from the National and two pair of gloves from Warrens.

The girls waived preliminary hearing and were released on bond to the grand jury of September in the sum of $500 each.

Virginia Holmes is married and is the mother of an eleven months old girl. Both defendants spent the greater part of Tuesday afternoon in tears awaiting their release on bail. They stated that they could not explain the impulse that had come over them to take the articles. Each admitted that they had an abundance of clothing.

and could offer no motive for their action.

IN JUSTICE COURT

John Schrader was fined $5 and costs in the court of Justice A. B. Opperman on a charge of assault and battery, complaint having been made by Roma Cole. The arrest was made by police.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world most punks don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just stays in the bowels, can't move up your stomach. You have a thick, hard taste and your breath is foul. It's often broken out in pimples. Your liver aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't look for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware of a substitute. Beware of a drug store. © 1931 C. M. Co.

trees and Tuesday night they protected and saved some houses from utter destruction. Their height took the full force of the cyclone, as is shown by the fact that the portions of the city not having the trees suffered the most.

The first reaction of the citizens was to take count of life and property. Now many are noting the destruction of the trees, celebrated in the middle west and written about by Will Irwin in the Saturday Evening Post. If Mr. Irwin were here now he would grieve with the inhabitants over the sight of the beautiful elms, many of which of West State street and West College avenue are over 100 years old and which have been stripped of their magnificent branches.

Fortunately the stately grandeur of probably the oldest elm in Jacksonville the one south of the main entrance of Academy hall, was spared, although several on the academy campus were shattered.

The sycamore grove in Duncan park, the only one of its kind in the middle west, suffered considerable damage but fortunately was not destroyed and remains as one of the beauty spots of the city.

trees on the grounds of the Jacksonville State hospital that seemed to survive the storm with the least damage. He says the Norway maples and the Lombardy poplars showed the most stubborn resistance to the violent wind and suffered the least.

Altho the poplars were bent nearly to the ground by the wind, they did not break. During the day Wednesday they straightened up and showed little injury. The worst damage was done to the oaks and elms.

The loss of shade in the hospital grounds will be keenly felt. The institution boasts a beautiful park, where patients could enjoy fresh air and shade during the hot days. Many shade trees were destroyed by the cyclone.

FARM CREDIT GROUP FINDS DEMAND FOR LIVE STOCK LOANS

Plans for expediting the handling of short-term loans to farmers for the financing of stocker and feeder livestock operations were discussed by a group of officials of the Farm Credit Administration of St. Louis and secretaries-treasurers of production credit associations in a series of conferences held recently in Illinois.

The conferences, which were attended by W. P. Oliver, executive vice president of the Production Credit Corporation, and Joseph R. Cosgrove, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank, were held at Champaign, LaSalle, Springfield and Peoria.

Besides the secretaries-treasurers other officers of the local associations, as well as farm advisers, attended the conferences.

In discussing the meetings, Mr. Oliver said, "As the season progresses, a larger proportion of the farmers of Illinois, borrowing from their local production credit associations, are obtaining loans for financing their livestock operations or for general farm and operating purposes."

"This trend toward livestock and general purpose loans is reflected in a gradual increase in the number and size of loans."

Stockmen and farmers borrowing through production credit associations are able to reduce their interest charges materially, as the loans bear interest at 5 per cent a year and that only for the time the borrower actually has use of the money.

The duration of the loan is determined largely by the type of enterprise financed. Ordinarily, notes will not run for more than one year. Certain kinds of loans, such as those for financing dairy production, may be amortized on a monthly basis, and renewals are considered where warranted.

Jerseyville Out to Gather Vehicle Tax

Police Tag Cars and Seek to Collect City Fees; Review Board Meets

Jerseyville, Ill., July 11.—A strict campaign against motor vehicle owners who have been delinquent in securing their 1934 city licenses was opened by Chief of Police Joseph Slover Tuesday morning. During the day a large number of violators were given notice to appear in justice court, to show why they had not complied with the ordinance which makes a city tag necessary.

A total of four hundred and eighty tags for pleasure cars, and seventy-two licenses for trucks had been issued up to Monday evening, the expiration date. During 1933, seven hundred and one licenses were issued for pleasure cars and one hundred and thirteen for trucks.

Monday was a busy day for City Clerk Harold Brooks. In addition to his other duties he granted tags for thirty-nine cars and fourteen trucks, the largest number issued in any one day.

The Board of Review of Jersey county for the 1934 period convened at the court house in Jerseyville Monday, July 9th and will be in session each day to hear complaints of taxpayers. Any property owner who is not satisfied with the assessment of their property will be given an opportunity to appear before the Board and seek adjustment of the same.

After hearing the complaints the members of the board will investigate the matter and make their decision in the matter according to the information secured. Several complaints were filed the first day the board was in session.

The Review Board is composed of J. C. Downey, Richard Stephenson

Miss Florence Warren and John Bloomer, clerk.

The Jerseyville Fire department was called out about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire in a pasture at the back of the Dalbey residence on South State street.

Workers at the place were burning brush when the grass ignited. Fearing the blaze would spread to some of the buildings on the grounds, the fire department was called. No property damage was incurred.

Capps Factory Has About $2,000 Loss as Storm's Result

The plant of J. Capps & Sons was hard hit by Tuesday night's tornado, and damage there probably will amount to $2,000. Parts of roofs of two buildings were ripped away, the garage sheds blown over and interiors of some of the rooms damaged by rain.

Harry M. Capps, president of the company, said Thursday that several hundred dollars damage was done by rain in the offices. Driving against windows and doors the downpour did not stop but streams of water ran through the offices.

The roofs of two of the larger factory units were lifted and twisted in such manner that extensive repairs will be necessary. Despite the resulting downpour the damage to the factory's stock was not large.

Near the factory one of its tenements was struck by a large tree and the roof crashed.

Mr. Capps stated that repairs will be made at once.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have received rush shipments of roofing and glass and are prepared to meet the emergency.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep... Vigor... Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 8 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging headache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 8 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

A doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Trust on DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS... the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Defeat Macomb 7-1 in Warm Up For District Contests at Galesburg This Saturday

Jacksonville American Legion Juniors tuned up for the district American Legion baseball tournament to be held in Gainesburg this year, with a 7-1 victory over the Macomb posts team on the high school field yesterday afternoon. The district tournament will be held at Gainesburg this Saturday. W. T. Harmon, local post athletic chairman was notified yesterday.

J. Lair allowed only five hits during the nine inning battle with the Macomb club, and his mates came up with three sparkling double plays to give him some of the best support the local team has managed this year. Three of the five hits Lair permitted went for extra bases.

S. Isaacs led the local club's slugging with a pair of triples, while H. Kindred turned in the best average with five times up and three hits. Doubles by Young and Bartleson, Jr. were the only extra bases in the first on an error and galloped around the bases.

The local team will compete against teams from Macomb and Gainesburg in the district tournament, according to word received by W. T. Harmon. It is probable that one game will be played Saturday morning and another game Saturday afternoon to determine the divisional title.

Four Errors By Braves Give Chicago Cubs Their Third Straight Victory Over Boston

infield performed in weird fashion today when the Chicago Cubs gained their third straight victory over the Braves, 4 to 1. Lon Warneke batted for the Cubs, although he gave up two of them doubles, he managed to set up his 13th win of the season.

Four of the Chicago runs were unearned, resulting from two errors by Hal Lee, who moved in from the outfield to play second base, and a costly boot by Marty McManus at third. This ragged support ruined Fred Frankhouse's efforts to gain his 14th victory.

SPLIT TWIN BILL

Brooklyn, July 12.—(AP)—Little Oskalade outpaced with some unexpected hitting today to help the Cincinnati Reds set an even break in a doubleheader which saw the two teams split more than five hours assaulting each other pitching. Slade hit a homer in each game as Brooklyn won the first contest, 3 to 7, and Cincinnati the second, 13 to 5.

Hurlin Poot and Jim Bottomley also hit Cincinnati homers in the slug-relieved by Ben Gastwirth in the seventh. The latter lasted only a third of an inning before giving way to Leo Mangum.	for the Reds and 27 for the Dodgers. Bottomley's blow started Cincinnati off to its victory, producing three tallies in the first.

PHILLIES DIVIDE WITH CARDINALS

Philadelphia, July 12.—(P)—The St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Phillies divided a double-header today, the Cards winning the first contest 8 to 5 and the Phils taking the second, 8 to 3.

The St. Louisians suffered a setback in their pennant hopes when Pitcher Paul Dean sprained his ankle sliding into third base in the third inning of the first game and was carried off the field. The Cardinals won this tilt, however, when they hit Hansen for two runs in the seventh inning after the Phillies had driven Mooney from the box and tied the score at 5 to 5 in the sixth.

Curt Davis won his 11th victory of the campaign in the final when he held the Cards to ten scattered hits.

CHICK EVANS IN QUARTER-FINALS

By Charles A. Grumich
Associated Press Sports Writer
Oklahoma City, July 12.—(P)—Chick Evans, the 44-year-old veteran who won the western amateur golf title eight times and came back to see whether the youngsters could prevent the "old man" from taking it once more, passed his first two tests in the comeback attempt today and wound up among the quarter-finalists.

After escaping elimination in the qualifying round by the scantiest margin, the dapper, nonchalant Chicago putting wizard won a weird first round match this morning from young Ed White of Bonham, Tex., one up and cruised easily through the second round this afternoon with a 6 and 5 victory over Grable W. Duvall, Jr., Kansas City.

Evans stole a good part of the gallery from the more seriously considered big guns who survived, including the defending champion, Jack Westland of Chicago, a Walker cupper; Charley Yates, intercollegiate champion from Atlanta; and medalist Bill Eaton.

Evans thrilled them with birdies and disappointed them when he went over par. One up on the par four 15th he needed a half or a win to defeat White, and he blew himself to a 7 after needing five to reach the green, but White also took 7 and checked out.

Over the 36-hole route tomorrow, Evans meets Verne Stewart of Albuquerque, N. M., State and Southern champion, who advanced thru the first two rounds at the expense of two Oklahoma City youths, Lucien McLaughlin, 6 and 4, and Bob Conliffe, Jr., 2 and 1.

Westland had a hard struggle thru the first round in a 1-up victory over Earl Thompson of Tulsa but he fired even par golf at E. J. Rogers of Oklahoma City to win, 5 and 3.

GOLFERS ENTER ST. PAUL OPEN

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Paul, Minn., July 12.—(P)—Lured by a $5,000 bag of gold, the only sizeable summer stake of golf, a fast field of 120 fairway marksmen, headed by Olin Dutra of Los Angeles, opened the 73-hole "battle" for the fourth St. Paul open championship tomorrow, Friday the thirteenth.

The championship struggle, which closes with a 36-hole finale Sunday, marks the first tournament start of Dutra since he came from behind with his spectacular finish to win the National open at Merion last month.

The big champion, 31, when he came through at Merion but the picture of health now, was far from an autographing favorite, however. Grouped in the first two rounds were virtually all the big money winners of golf.

Among the favorites in the skirmish over the Keller municipal course, one that requires exceptional accuracy and a consistent putting touch, were Harry Cooper of Chicago, who has won three straight championships; Ky Laffoon of Denver, who lost to the "Lighthouse" after two overtimes in the Western open; Walter Hagen of Detroit, who amazed everyone by landing on the championship scene two days early for serious drills; Horton Smith of Chicago, whose injured side has healed; Willy Cox, Brooklyn; Jimmy Foulis, Chicago, defending champion; George Von Elm, golf's businessness, and such stars as Tommy Trlxr, "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, Al and Abe Espinosa, Melvita Dutra, John Golden, Johnny Revolta, Frank Walsh, and Alvin "Butch" Krueger, the baseball pitcher, who is a golf professional from Beloit, Wis. It was out of that group that the champion was expected to come.

150 RELIEF WORKERS TO JOIN FORCES

specting damage and conferring with owners. When their work is finished there will be still more activity in reconstruction. The number of homes requiring extensive repairs is probably 400, while many others have damage to porches and chimneys.

The first case for emergency relief was reported yesterday, when one person sought aid. The heavy downpour of rain which followed the tornado swept away his truck garden, out of which he was obtaining food and clothing for himself and family.

The order with which the problem of clearing away the debris and handling victims of the storm has received the commendation of the state Emergency Relief body. No confusion followed the disaster, and citizens have been patient and considering during the emergency.

Despite a casualty list of more than 20, several of whom lie in hospitals with serious injuries, there has not been a death as a result of the storm. Considering the violence of the wind over a wide area, the escape of many persons continues a remarkable feature of the tornado.

The lives of a three months old baby, Mary Sue Bibe, her grandmother, Mrs. Maude Bibe, and Ellis and Jukie Bibe were miraculously spared by the tornado, although a huge tree virtually crushed their house to a pulp and pinned them under the debris. Trapped for several hours, they were finally rescued by John Davis and Lloyd Jordan, who cleared away the wreckage. The Bibe home is at 514 South Fayette street.

Damage to Potter Home
New reports of damage are still coming in. At 1820 Mound Ave., the wind swept a pillar from the front porch of C. W. Potter's home and carried it around to the east side of the house. Several shingles were also torn from the roof and trees in the front and rear yard were blown over.

Severe damage was done to the lawn at the Maplewood Sanatorium when a number of the trees that were specially planted to beautify the place were stripped of their branches and completely uprooted by the storm. The work of clearing the big yard of the debris which entirely covered it was in progress today.

One of the few compensating features of the storm in the view of motorists is the inability of the stop and go signals to operate at the various street intersections and on the public square. While automobile traffic has been extremely heavy during the last few days, and with many of the streets littered with trees and debris, very few accidents have been reported, motorists using extraordinary care in driving.

By noon Wednesday news of the tornado had spread to all parts of the country. Long distance calls, telegrams and personal messengers arrived steadily to ascertain if relatives escaped.

This morning an airmail letter received by the Journal and Courier from Mrs. J. Donahue, 316 Sixty-fourth street, Brooklyn, N. Y., inquired of the safety of Mrs. Ethel Quinn at the State Hospital. She was notified that Mrs. Quinn was unharmed.

Rope Old Danger Zones
Several areas in front of business houses on the square have been roped off to protect pedestrians while repairs are being made. Brickmasons began work Wednesday on top of the Knights of Pythias building on the north side of the square. Old bricks were strewn in front of this building by the storm when part of the front cornice collapsed.

The entire front and sides of the Montgomery Ward store has been boarded up, awaiting arrival of new plate glass. Every window of this establishment was shattered by wind and hail.

The Armstrong building at the southwest corner of the square, one of the hardest hit in the business section, was a scene of activity Wednesday. The demolished roof will be replaced at once, together with other extensive repairs.

About 90 feet of the new South Main street pavement that is now under construction will have to be relaid as a result of the storm. The tar had not been spread over that section Tuesday afternoon and the rain gave the sand and compound a thorough soaking. When the contractor surveyed the damage he ordered his workmen to take up 90 feet and place the bricks again on a new base.

DUPONTS ACCUSED OF "SMOKE SCREEN" IN MUNITIONS QUIZ

Washington, July 12.—(P)—Senator Pope (D-Ia.) accused the DuPont munitions interests today of "laying a smoke screen" in anticipation of the Senate's inquiry into the war materials business.

The senator, member of the investigating committee, said DuPont profits jumped nearly 1,000 per cent during the World war.

He answered a recent statement attributed to the vice chairman of the board of the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Company. This statement had said attacks on munitions makers were inspired by:

"A subversive force instigated by the Third (communist) Internationale and allied interests, to weaken the defensive powers of capitalistic countries, efforts of idealists to prevent war through a mistaken notion that preparedness is a cause of war and a desire on the part of many newspapers and magazines to sell copies by handing to the public lurid reading which will help their sales."

Senator Pope declared:

"It is interesting that the DuPont interests should begin protesting and laying a smoke screen in anticipation of the work of the investigating committee."

Movie Producers Act to Clean Up Salacious Films

New York, July 12.—(P)—The third major voluntary move by the movie industry to "clean up" came today.

In answer to insistent demands for prohibition of salacious screen subjects, the motion picture producers and distributors of America acknowledged willingness to how to public objections on current releases.

Specifically, the action—taken on behalf of ten large distributors—permits cancellation by exhibitors of contracts on any picture against which "there is a genuine protest on moral grounds."

The industry's first step in a voluntary house cleaning, undertaken under the direction of Will Hays, eight months ago took the "hotch" out of the adventures headlining the dramas of Gerie Gorgeous at the neighborhood movie house.

The second becomes effective July 15. It expands the long-established appeal jury of three producers to the full membership of the board of directors of the Producers and Distributors of America organization.

It gives the organization's production code administration full power over picture releases and authorizes over picture releases, director, Joseph I. Brown, to act as "umpire." Every picture must get a clean bill of health by the industry itself.

PRESSSTEER MARKET 25 CENTS HIGHER

Chicago, July 12.—(P)—Trade in both steers and hogs improved on the Chicago livestock market today. Bridged supplies and a stronger demand for pork and beef being important factors. Lambs were generally weak to 25 cents lower, with some sales 40 cents down.

The general steer market was strong to 25 cents higher, and hogs were 5 to mostly 10 cents up, the top going in late trading to $8.60, fifteen cents ahead of yesterday's peak.

Hog receipts totaled 20,000, of which 9,000 came in direct. The run, while more than expected, was under offerings a week and a year ago.

The supply of government cattle is dwindling here. Buying in the risk regions is going ahead at a brisk pace, but there are now 55 points handling these cattle, which is relieving the larger markets. There were no prime steers available. The best on hand points to $8.60 against a quotable top of $10.25. Receipts were 9,000, which was 3,000 less than had been expected.

Sheep receipts were 10,000, about normal. The undertone was weak to 25 cents lower for lambs, a practical top at $8.00. Sheep were fully steady to stronger.

Observer Describes Fierce Cloud Battle

Just what happened in the skies Tuesday night? From which direction did the big storm come? How did it act? These are questions that have been puzzling Jacksonville residents.
Who led the fury and heard the sound but knew not whence the wind came nor whether it went?

According to one observer, the storm was a battle between two heavy clouds one from the south, the other from the north. Abraham Jones tells a thrilling story of his observations from the porch of his home on Franklin street. He had been watching the clouds for sometime at the home of a neighbor and expressed the belief that if they seemed meet it would be serious.
He finally hurried home and made everything secure about the house.
Then took up a position on the front porch to watch the storm. He saw the clouds come together "like two fighting bulls." They met directly over the city of Jacksonville. The cloud from the north got here first and began the destruction of trees.
Mr. Jones watched his yard being stripped with limbs and entire trees.
Then the south cloud arrived; the wind switched; a large walnut tree across the street from the Jones home was uprooted and laid across the pavement. The wind and hail finally drove the observer into the house.
Mr. Jones was of the opinion that either cloud would have given the city a heavy storm of wind and rain, but the cyclone resulted when they came together.

This explains the fact that the large flapole on the state hospital grounds blew to the south, while corn in fields north of the city was laid to the north.
There were two winds. Both the north and south sides of houses were plastered with leaves by the double action storm.

W. E. MANN INJURED IN FALL FROM TREE

W. E. Mann, 710 Pearl street, was painfully injured Thursday when he fell from a tree at his home. He was trimming the tree, which had been damaged by the storm.
He sustained several cuts on the head and injuries to the shoulders.
He was knocked unconscious in the fall, but was soon able to sit in a chair.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

SYNOPSIS

Mary Faith, comely young orphan, gives up her position as secretary to the wealthy Mark Nesbit to marry Kimberley Farrell. Kim, a young, shiftless lawyer, lives with his mother. When the latter objects to the marriage, Kim brusquely startles Mary Faith by breaking the engagement. Later, when he sees her with Mark Nesbit in a jewelry store, selecting a ring, his jealousy is aroused. The next morning he appears at Mary Faith's boarding house and overwhelms her with his protestations of love. She again leaves her position and, after a hasty marriage, they spend an ecstatic two weeks' honeymoon in the house of Kim's aunt in the country. Returning home, Mary Faith moves to the Farrell apartment. Kim's friends,
Claire and Jack Maldon, find Mary Faith a dull companion for their jazz parties. Mary Faith realizes Kim is irritated by her failure to drink and gamble. During the winter Kim attends the parties alone.
Mary Faith takes care of the house but knows nothing of Kim's finances.

CHAPTER XX

"If you wanted to be a real help to Kimberley," said Mrs. Farrell, "you'd get a job and go to work in an office again. That's what you'd do."
"You mean Kim asked me to?"
Mary Faith came back at her. "If I went to work Kim would feel that I was discontented and didn't want to live on what he makes. It would hurt him—it would hurt his pride.
Naturally he wants to support his own wife."

She had plenty to do at home, besides. She spent the short days of the winter making new curtains of natural pongee silk for the whole house. She bought tan and cream and green silk and made covers for the cushions of the old couch in the parlor. She bought two wicker boxes of daffodils for the front windows of the flat.

The winter went by and spring came all at once, in a burst of sunlight, the last week in March. All that week Mary Faith cleaned house —washing woodwork, brushing covers from the smoky ceiling, polishing the water faucets until they shone like silver. She sent the dusty carpets to the dry-cleaners and bought a dark blue rug for the bedroom that she and Kim shared.

"Where did you get the money for all this stuff?" Kim asked her on Sunday as they sat over their morning coffee.

Mary Faith laughed. "You don't think I worked for four years without putting away a dollar every now and then, do you, Kim?"
He shifted in his chair, studying her face with his gray eyes.

"Look here, Mary Faith," he said at last. "I hate to ask you, but can you let me take sixty dollars?"
She answered him without a sec-ond's hesitation. "Why, of course I can, Kim, and I'll be glad to. I'll get it out of the bank first thing in the morning."

What he did with his own money she didn't know. He gave his mother fifteen dollars every week for food and ice and newspapers, and the rest he kept himself. Mary Faith knew almost nothing about the household finances.

The next day Kim came home in the middle of the afternoon. His mother had gone to the library for a book and Mary Faith was sitting by the window, reading, when she saw his car stop in front of the building.

She opened the door for him and he dropped down on the window seat without stopping to take off his hat and coat. He was smiling and he took a cigarette out of his pocket and lit it.

"Well," he said, "you won't have to lend me that sixty dollars I asked you for."

"How's that, Kim?" She had brought home from the bank that morning and it was lying now in the bottom of the drawer where she kept her stockings and handkerchiefs.

County Commissioner Harry W.
Petefish had troubles of his own after the storm at his farm west of Litter-berry. His corn and bean crops were ruined. Fences were blown down and stock got free to wander over the countrywide. Farm buildings were also damaged.

At last reports last night the National Re-employment Service had furnished 28 men for storm relief jobs.
Many of the men are soliciting work from house to house. Director Ralph Basley stated. He repeated his invitation to the public to call the office for men, as they can be furnished for almost any kind of job.

It was necessary to get the roof on as soon as possible to prevent further damage from rain. The inch of water which fell Wednesday night did further harm to the interior of the court house, and especially to the circuit court room, which will have to be redecorated.

The county home was also somewhat damaged. Holes were torn in the roof and one of the chicken houses was moved several feet. Limbs were blown from trees in the yard. Temporary repairs on the home are being made today.

Mrs. Linder Stevenson suffered a sprained ankle Tuesday night while trying to sweep the water from her house on Hardin avenue during the cyclone. The violent wind took the back porch from the Stevenson home and the rain poured into the kitchen.
Mrs. Stevenson attempted to sweep the flood out to prevent damage. She slipped on the wet floor and gave her ankle a violent wrench. She will be unable to walk on the injured foot for some time.

Department Commander Kapeshull called The Journal-Courier office from Peoria Thursday and offered the services of the American Legion created by the Tuesday night storm.
Commander Kapeshull said the Legion would be willing to help in any way possible.

Owing to the paralysis of telephone service here, he was unable to reach Post Commander John Larson or any other Legion officers here. The commander was assured that the offer of aid is greatly appreciated by the citizens of Jacksonville.

Benton, Ill., July 12.—(AP)—A violent wind and electrical storm accompanied by more than an inch of rainfall struck Franklin county last night, leveling crops and trees and crippling communication services. Several homes and barns were destroyed by lightning, but no injuries were reported.

The next night he came home at dinner time and told her that McIntire and Westover had let him out.

"Well, I'll tell you why I wanted that money," he began slowly. "You know, I do a lot of collecting for my firm, and a couple of months ago I collected sixty dollars from an old fellow named Grammas over on the west side."

He took a cigarette from his pocket and struck a match to it.
"I didn't turn it in at the office that day," his voice went slowly on,
"and that night I lost every nickel of it, playing cards at the Athletic Club."

Mary Faith remembered the very night that must have been. Kim had called her up and told her that

Expand Rees Plowing Meet To Two Days; To Be Held August 8-9

Morgan county's big plowing match, the Rees plowing meet, has been expanded this year, and will require two days to complete the program, an interested committee in charge of the affair decided at a meeting held in the store at Pisgah Wednesday night. The first day will be devoted to judging and grading demonstrations, and the second day to the actual plowing contests for tractors and horses.

August 8 and 9 have been set aside for this affair which annually attracts hundreds of people to the Milford Rees farm, near Pisgah, where the matches will be held. Edgar Spires is serving as general chairman of the event this year, assisted by C. D. Rundsell. The morning of August 9 will be devoted to horse plowing matches, and in the afternoon tractors will vie for honors.

The new members elected to the board of directors are T. A. Chapin, Carl Hamilton, Fletcher Hopper, Francis R. Rantz, H. G. Shaw and Lee Sullivan.

Members of the board who still have one year to serve on their term are M. E. Cain, J. H. Dial, Dr. A. H. Dolger, J. W. Merriam, Lloyd Reid and Earl M. Spink.

ANSON BROWN IS NAMED PRESIDENT OF TRADES GROUP

Charles Souza Refuses Post After Serving 23 Consecutive terms

Anson Brown was named president of the Trades and Labor Assembly for the ensuing term at an election of officers held last evening during a regular meeting. Charles E. Souza declined to run for the post again, after twenty-three years of continuous service as head of the organization.

Other officers named for the coming term are as follows: Vice-president, L. F. Hoffman; recording secretary, F. L. Wilder; financial secretary, Albert Spreen; sergeant-at-arms, Ellis Mann; trustees, Charles Fronzberger, Hiram Johnson, Grover Flynn, and Russell Hoffman. Mr. Johnson was re-elected. The other trustee is R. A. Guthrie, whose term did not expire at this time.

During the business session, Dean Sargent and Kemp Wolke were obligated from the Carpenters' Union. The credentials of James Louie from the Movie Operators' and Stage Employees' Union were read.

Following the installation of officers, a rising vote of thanks was tendered Charles E. Souza for his good work he has done during his past years of service.

It was reported at the meeting that the Labor Temple, being a strongly constructed building, had suffered only slight damage from the storm. A small part of the roof was torn away and a number of window panes were broken out.

Four Out Of Five Baby Swans Lost At Park In Storm

Nichols Park, Jacksonville's popular playground, escaped Tuesday's raging winds with slight damage, but lost four of its newest visitors. Four of the five baby swans which came to live at the park this spring are missing.

The body of one of the fuzzy little fellows was found Thursday morning on the bank of the lake, giving mute testimony as to what happened. All of the old swans are still at the lake.

Flower beds and valuable trees in the park escaped damage in the storm, but the death of the baby swans indicates the fury with which the wind roared its way through the resort. One tree near the refreshment stand was torn down by the gale.

Wilson Vorbeck, manager of the bathhouse, was forced to empty the water out of the plunge because of the large amount of dust and dirt which settled in the water. The pool has been refilled and will be open again this morning.

SEALED CORN TO BE CALLED AUG. 1 TO OCT. 15, CLAIM

Farmers Do Not Need To Speed Sales, Farm Bureau Says; Owners Get Surplus

Farmers who have sealed up their corn cribs and obtained federal loans on the crop now cribbed, need not speed up the sale of their product in order to meet the notes held by the government by August 1, Farm Ad- visor I. E. Parett, said Thursday afternoon after receiving word from the federal government regarding its plans.

The money which was obtained on loans will be payable to the government August 1, according to the terms of the contract, but word from the federal government yesterday was to the effect that payment on these loans will be held, and three churches in the vicinity.

Livestock judging and grading will be demonstrated on August 9 which will be the opening day of the meet this year. The Farm Bureau has made arrangements with E. T. Robinson, of the University of Illinois, to be present to assist in the judging and to speak on proper feeding of animals.

Tornado Topics

Several hundreds dollars damage from the storm tested at the large brick residence of Mrs. Joseph B. Bassett, at 820 South Diamond street. In addition to being badly damaged on the roof and eaves, the home was flooded by rain and hail when more than 30 windows were broken.

One of the eaves on the east side was demolished, chimneys blown down and a strip of shingles several feet wide and the full length of the roof, ripped away.

With all the reports of damage done by Jacksonville's tornado, local citizens will be glad to know that the storm had at least one good aspect. Lake Mauvaisterre, the city's source of water, was completely filled by the rain. The lake had been reaching alarmingly low levels as a result of the prolonged drought, and though recent rains had succeeded in keeping it over the danger line, it has remained much lower than it normally should be. Tuesday's storm, however, left nothing undone in refilling the lake. In fact, the lake district took on the appearance of a flood. Water rose over Nichols park drives for a time, and the bridge over the little spillway east of the swimming pool was carried away by the rushing water. So now Jacksonville has again a capacity water supply.

The north part of the Mason Machine company building, located on East Court street just west of Auto Inn, was almost blown to pieces by the storm on Tuesday night. The portion of the building which was wrecked housed the water and accessories. The main part of the building was not damaged to any great extent.

A large number of people around the square early yesterday afternoon were witnesses to an exhibition of flag pole climbing. Many eyes were turned toward the top of the Ayers Bank building while a man, whose name was not learned, climbed to the top of the flag pole and started his task of giving the mast a new coat of paint.

Several yards of the new brick paving on South Main street at the intersection with Beecher avenue were removed yesterday and reset again. The section of bricks which had not received the tar filler Tuesday night had to be torn up because the flood washed dirt into the cracks between the bricks and thus prevented the filler from being used.

The paving will continue today with the full force of men on duty. The foreman stated, late yesterday afternoon.

The strong wind was responsible for forcing open the transoms at the front and rear of the Lukeman Clothing store on the east side of the square. As a result of this, through ventilation suit and hat boxes, many of which were in the shelves and others on the ledges, were blown the length and breadth of the store. Clarence Lukeman, proprietor, reported that the interior of his store presented a sorrowful sight of boxes and merchandise which covered the floor. A portion of the roof over the store was also demolished.

At Walker & Brown hardware store, where the roof was carried away, water poured into the front part of the store, and covered the bottom sections of the nail bins. The effect of moisture was soon noted on the large stock of nails, which became rusty. Only the galvanized bars remained in normal state. J. A. Walker reported upon reaching the store that he measured the water on the floor and found six inches covering it at that time.

Andre & Andre also reported a heavy deluge of water which came in the front west window, and blew the entire length of the store. At one time sections of the west side of the first floor was covered with three inches of water. A damaged roof also accounted for considerable damage to furniture on the mezzanine, second and third floors.

The Fox Theatre building was fortunate to escape with damage to the roof only at the south end, but water came through this part and poured upon the heavy carpeting in the lobby. As a result of the damage done, the afternoon performance Wednesday was called off, but by evening the heavy carpets were removed and the night performance was held as usual.

Montgomery Ward & Company was one store to suffer the ravages of the terrific wind with heavy loss. All windows except two small ones in front were blown out, and merchandise ruined. Water also came in the second floor, and damaged furniture there.

A new plan was developed yesterday in order to rush the relief work. Men who have been working on relief projects will be permitted to join the clean-up crew on the days they are not assigned to their regular projects. No projects now underway will be halted to supply men for the clean-up work, but an additional 150 men, who have been on the relief rolls and who have not been employed, will be put to work.

Fifty men were put to work Thursday morning removing the first of the debris.

Wednesday Storm Does Damage

The southern portion of the county, which escaped with light damage Tuesday night, was visited by a severe storm Wednesday night which uprooted trees, unroofed buildings and flattened crops.

The farms occupied by Howard and Leslie Rawlings, about a mile east of Woodson, suffered wrecked outbuildings as well as crop damage, according to Mrs. Lavinia Rawlings, of this city, who accompanied by Mrs. John Reynolds, visited the two farms yesterday.

Barns were demolished at both places, and shingles were ripped off the houses. A few trees were uprooted and fences were rolled over as the storm battered its way across the country.

South of Franklin on a farm belonging to Sheriff Fletcher Blackburn a horse was killed by lightning.

Wednesday night's gale was lacking in velocity compared to the tornado Tuesday night, but sent many persons to places of shelter in fear that another twister was about to strike.

Hundreds of workmen employed by private and public sources rushed to the task of rehabilitation. In the business district, on all residence streets and at institutions, repairs are in progress or will be started soon.

Insurance adjusters moved through the center of the storm belt south and west of the business district, in (Continued On Page Nine)

Little Girl Burned By "Hot Wire"; City Rushes Rehabilitation

An army of 150 relief workers today will set axes and saws to humming as Jacksonville continues to clear away the wreckage of the Tuesday night tornado, which caused serious injuries to two persons, and has since resulted in injuries to two children, and was the indirect cause of one death.

Juanita Pate, eight year old daughter of W. G. Pate, 322 North Mauvaisterre street, was burned about the feet and suffered serious shock at eight o'clock last night when she stepped on a hot wire at the corner of North Mauvaisterre and Washington streets. Police were sent to investigate the report of the live wire, and were unable to find it.

Reports of additional damage filtered through the crippled communication system yesterday as the result of Wednesday night's downpour, farmers in the vicinity of Woodson reporting a terrific wind which in two known cases flattened barns, ripped shingles off roofs and knocked down fences. In Jacksonville, business men looked over stocks which were damaged for the second time as a result of a half inch of rain fell. Damage, however, was comparatively light, as temporary roofs diverted the most of the water into eaves.

Seriously Injured Recover

Mr. Jay Hamilton, injured when a limb of a tree crashed into the automobile in which she was riding with her husband, was reported as resting easily at the Jacksonville State Hospital. Her condition was regarded as somewhat improved. Ed Perry, injured circus worker, also continued to show signs of speedy recovery from the blow he sustained near the base of his skull when a pole in the circus tent snapped off and struck him.

Little Miss Pate was said to have been burned about the feet as the result of her contact with a live wire. Her father reported the accident to the police, but a squad of trouble shooters was unable to discover the live end of a wire. The father also stated that he did not take the girl to a physician for treatment. He said she was knocked several feet by the electrical current.

The death of Mrs. C. C. Carter who was found dead in her bed, was indirectly accredited to the storm. Mrs. Carter's death was attributed to myocarditis, a heart ailment, which was accentuated by the excitement during and following the violent storm. She was found dead in her bed at her home Thursday morning.

Compliments Mrs. T. J. Kelly, head of the local branch of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, highly. Miss Mary Humphries, district representative yesterday reported to her superiors that everything was well in hand here.

Five or six state department of highway trucks will arrive here this morning to begin hauling away the debris which in most cases has been piled along the curbs. The trucks will be put at the disposal of the city government, and a force of 150 men, will be assigned to them to work under the direction of employees of the city street department, who will be considered foremen of the clean-up project.

Men have been working night and day since the hour of the storm. About fifty men collected from an area of a hundred and fifty miles comprise the working crews. Along with repairing the broken lines, the men must clear the streets so that the debris can get through. It was estimated that it will cost between $25,000 and $30,000 to restore electricity to each house that was using it before the storm destroyed every circuit. A large number of transformers were lost and around two hundred poles will have to be reset. After the entire system is in working order the crews will have to begin again to clean things up and replace temporary fixtures with permanent ones. To do this it will take about two months and several thousands of dollars additional cost.

The tornado threw the local lighting system into the worst condition it has been in since the great storm of 1924. However, due to the efficient work of the Power and Light Company, Jacksonville will very soon be able to throw away the candles and oil lamps until our next flood or earthquake and use electricity again.

The Illinois Telephone company was still cutting away branches which fouled wires leading into homes, but yesterday began reconditioning lines wherever possible. It will be several days before actual restoration of service will be possible, because of the large number of damaged cables, ripped down by the storm and in some cases melted by bolts of lightning.
